Dear Fellow Cadets:

★ The motif of this CROSSED SABRES is a pictorial record of our life at the "Forge." It will, we hope, in the future kindle the fires of reminiscence, and be a visual reminder of the quintessence of our Cadet days, and our devotion to all that it symbolizes. If it gives us inspiration and new courage in tackling our problems, if it serves as a constant reminder of the fine traditions learned here, it will indeed serve its purpose and the efforts of

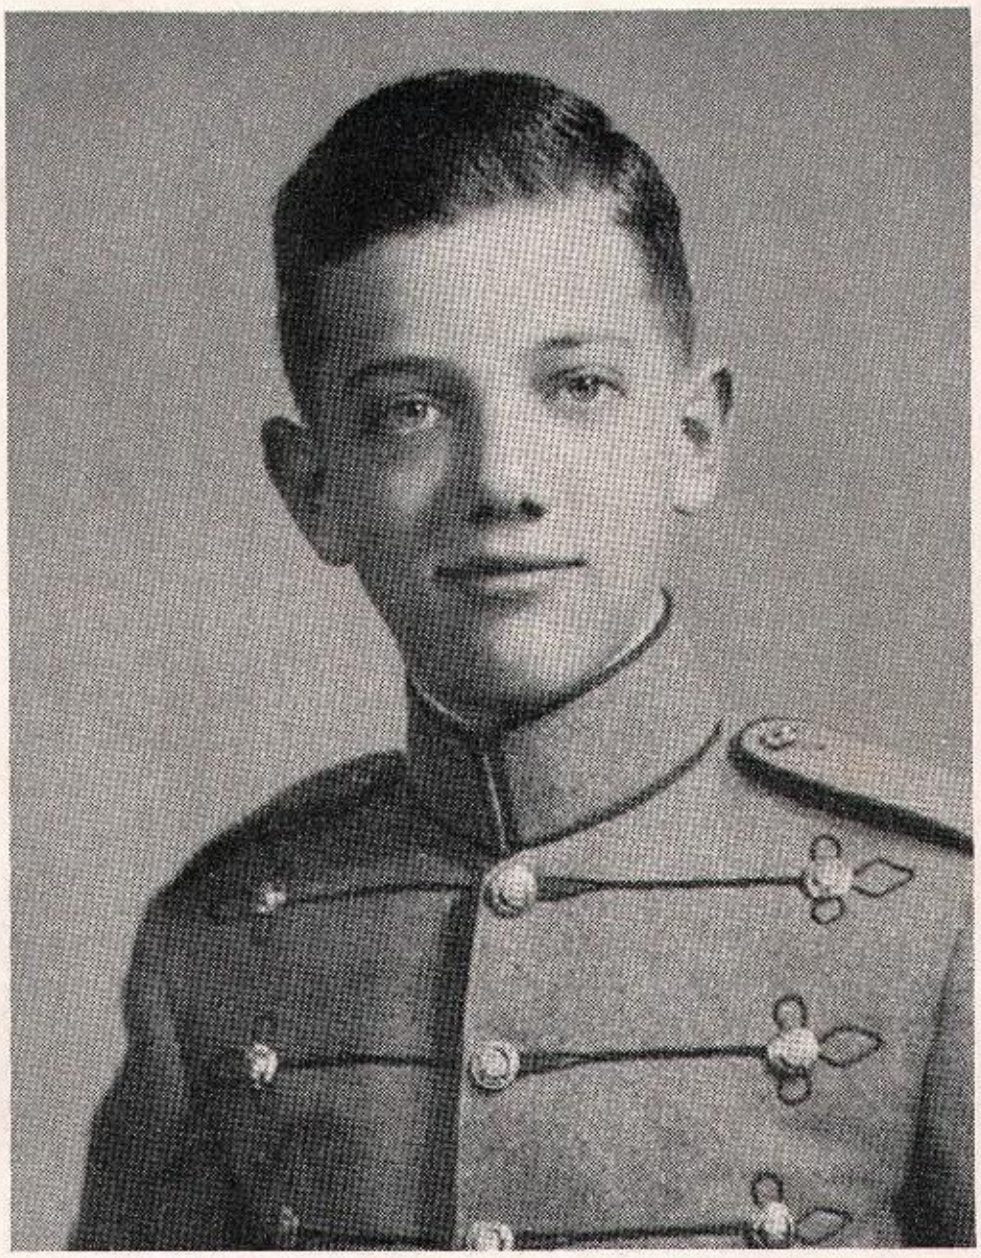
Dedication

★ The Class of 1950, the mid-century class, leaves its Alma Mater with an appreciation of its responsibilities on the American scene in the second half of this fabulous century. We are true products of the Twentieth Century, born with the taste of Destiny in our mouths and free from the shibboleths which brought disillusionment to our predecessors. Our fathers fought two wars as a prelude to this era; our task is the consolidation of the philosophical, ideological, and moral gains they made. We enter the era of the A-Bomb and the H-Bomb, in the sure knowledge that a free people, convinced of the dignity of the individual, and firm in its belief in its knowledge of Right and Wrong, will prevail against the forces, within and without, which seek to selfishly destroy it. We, each of us, dedicate our Youth to the development of an America free from poverty, injustice, bigotry, and, above all, free from fear of forces which we will lean to bend to our will. For this task we have been singularly well-trained at Valley Forge and we have taken from our Alma Mater the mental and moral strength which comes from her heritage of an earlier Valley Forge.

In Memoriam



Rudolf Theodore Lucke

Taps November 3, 1949

★ O Almighty God, Thou in Thy Divine Wisdom hast seen fit to call home one of our beloved comrades-in-arms.

O Almighty God, we humbly pray, that Thou findest in him a worthy soldier to march in Thy legions and under Thy heavenly banners.

Find him, O Lord, rich in spiritual ideals; strong in courage; imbued with the highest type of honor; and ever ready to conquer all that is evil and corrupt.

We bow our heads as taps are played, secure in the knowledge, despite our grief, that reveille is being blown upon the parade ground of Heaven, and Thou, O Lord, hast gained a new recruit. Accept him, O Father! and praised be Thy name, O God, forever! AMEN

In Appreciation

★ By his untiring devotion to the spiritual welfare of the Corps of Cadets, by his inspired sermons delivered from the pulpit of St. Cornelius the Centurion, by his outstanding achievements as chaplain and administrator—daily evident in the growth of the Corps of Cadets and the Academy—our chaplain has taught us the real purpose of education and life—to know, love, and serve God and man. He has developed within us the strength to go on with our unfinished tasks, the desire to keep our minds clean and alert, and the courage to face life with bright hopes and undimmed faith. It is with affectionate pride that we salute

★ ★ With the graduation class of nineteen hundred fifty the half century mark is passed. As the long lines of grey pass into the future with heads held high and eyes straight ahead, the Academy pauses for a moment in justifiable pride and watches the inspiring procession of young men whose new interests and outlook will enable them to give much and therefore get the most out of life. These young men have perspective, breadth, background, standards of value, and maturity of judgment, which will make for a successful professional or business career. They have intelligence which is disciplined and tempered with the moral knowledge of what is right and what is wrong.

God willing, these young men will consistently win high honors, establishing for themselves a singular reputation for excellence as men and scholars; and gaining for their Alma Mater the respect of people everywhere.

It is the intent of those that guide the destinies of the Valley Forge Military Academy that the school shall know a renewed birth and a constant re-affirming of those sacred ideals and traditions that gave it its inception and that it, too, along with the endless procession of its graduates, will march confidently into the veiled future.

ACADEMIC

Colonel A. W. Bass, Dean, Academic Department

★ We, the graduates of nineteen hundred fifty, well equipped to meet, and we sincerely hope, to solve partially the momentous and complex problems of this dawning atomic-hydrogen age, leave the ivy-covered halls of learning at the Forge.

We have been kept mentally alert to the qualities necessary for good citizenship and alive to the future value of extra-curricular activities and abilities that eventually lead to the more abundant life. We have been constantly aware of the high standards of achievement set and maintained on the hill, and have developed a sincere respect for sound scholarship. We have come to love and respect our instructors for their intelligence, culture, character, and varying personalities, and to realize as the years passed by, that the most important teaching is done outside of class, where the contacts between student and teacher are more informal and intimate than are possible in the classroom. We have come to value the individuals counselling and to profit by the social and scholastic adjustments we made.

We have also come to accept the training in leadership and responsibilities that were made a part of our daily life on the campus and have learned to use our capabilities wisely, generously, and morally.

We accepted these things from the Academic Department and in turn we resolve to fulfill the department's high expectations of us and to continue to foster and develop in our daily lives self-discipline, courtesy, and manners in a living, working, American Democracy.

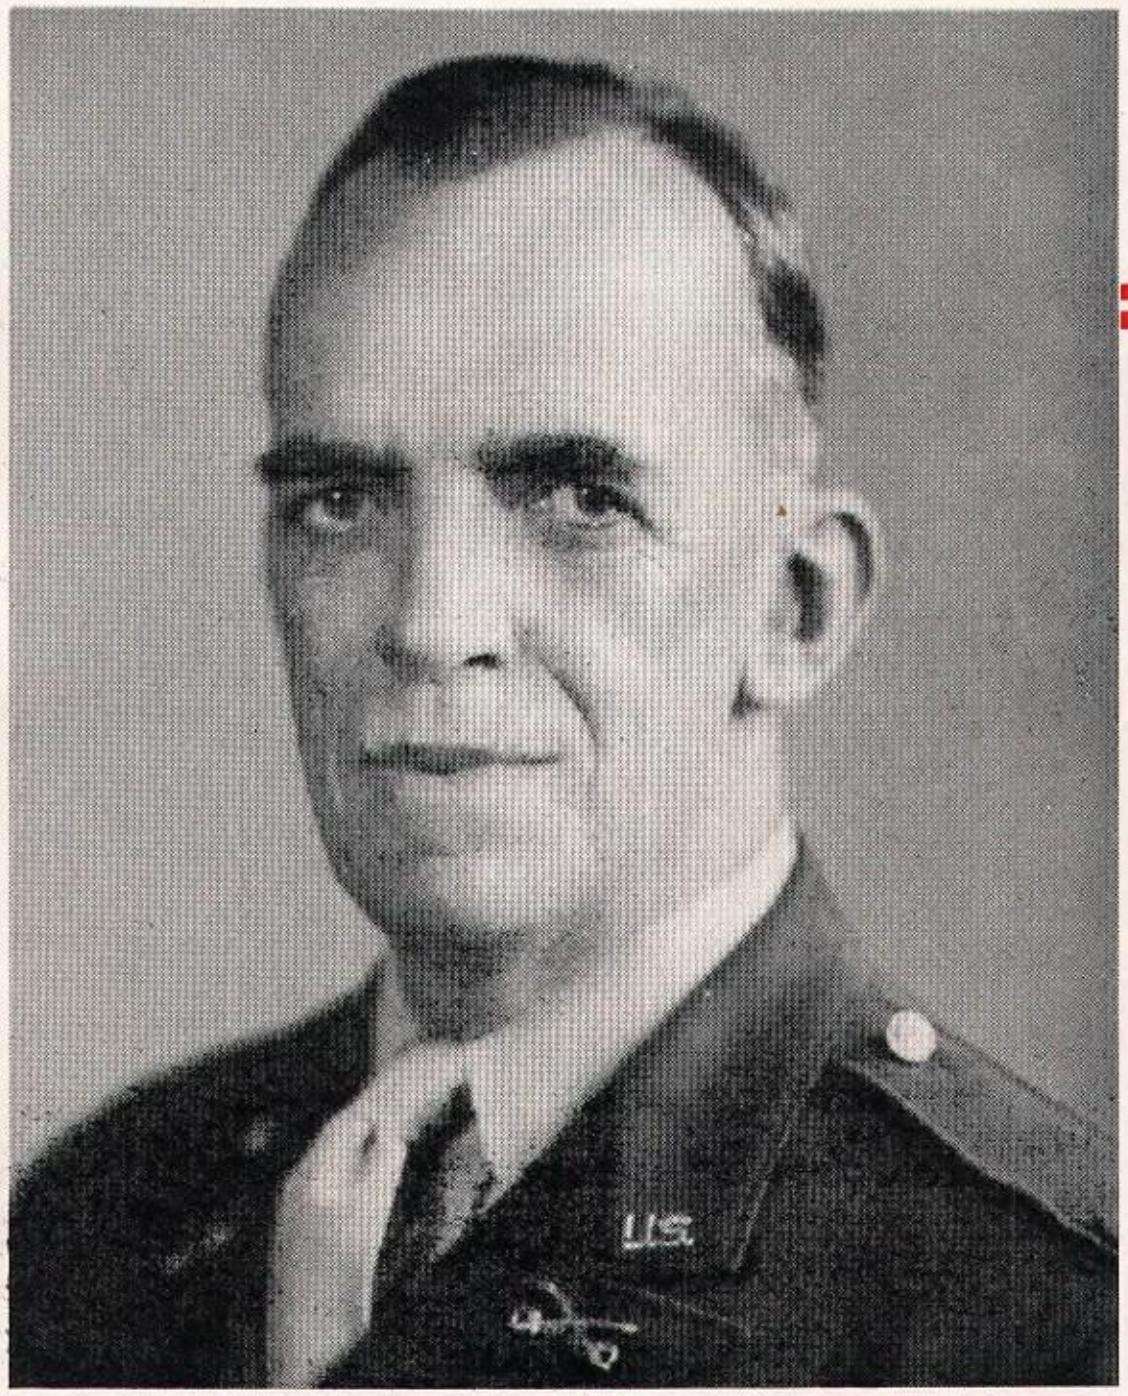
Colonel Milton H. Medenbach
Commandant of Cadets

Tactical and Training Department

★ The one department at Valley Forge which will undoubtedly last longest in our memory is the Tactical Department. It is this department, headed by the Commandant of Cadets, which has led us along the devious paths of boyhood to the full sunlight of manhood. The tactical officer has been our mentor, who in spite of his outward paternal sternness, has always had a trace of a twinkle in his eye as he deftly guided us over and around the imponderables of adolescence. Wherever we go, whatever we may do in the future, our goings and doings will be influenced by our association with the men of the Tactical Department; they have shown us a way of life built around the value of Honor, the love of Truth, and the responsibility of Duty. To the men of the Tactical Department the Class of 1950 expresses its appreciation and, in unison, gives a hearty "Hail and Farewell!"



Colonel William T. Fletcher
Professor of Military Science and Tactics

Military Science and Tactics Department

★ The objective of the Department of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps is to qualify students for positions of leadership in time of national emergency by inculcating in the cadets a thorough understanding of the basic principles of military courtesy, discipline, weapons, tactics, and of military life as a whole; and further, through this training to enable them to take their place in the world whether it be civilian or military. To accomplish this objective a professor of military science and tactics, five assistant professors, all of whom are officers of the regular Army and ten regular non-commissioned officers are detailed to the Academy by the Department of the Army.

Classroom instruction is supplemented by practical work with weapons and tactical exercises in the field around historic Valley Forge Park during which time the student has an opportunity to express his knowledge of the subjects taught as well as his inherent leadership characteristics.

★ "B" Company this year, as in the past, has been outstanding in every phase of Academy life. Guided by an excellent group of cadet officers, "B" Company could not help being among the leaders. Always noted for its athletic turnout, the company was outstanding this year in intramural competition. The marching and spirit of the company were of the highest standard. Any man who is a member of the 1949-'50 "B" Company is certainly justified in being proud of himself for what he has done. From the oldest cadet to the newest, "Congratulations for a job well done."

★ The men of "C" Company demonstrate the spirit that has made the Valley Forge Military Academy the top-notch school that it is. They have developed the company through honor, courage, and a type of comradeship that is memorable to say the least.

The company hopes that by doing its work well in field, classroom, gymnasium, and shop, it will win the respect and admiration of the administration, faculty, and the Corps.

We have worked, played, and studied together during our years, at the Forge in a comradeship that will be one of our happiest and finest memories.

★ This year another full chapter was added to the long and colorful history of the Troop. Under the skillful direction of Cadet Captain Cerrato and our Tactical Officer, Lt. Rudisill, the Troopers performed a double task. In addition to the mastery of horsemanship, there were the intricacies of modern mechanized equipment to be learned. This was the first year of mechanization for them, but the Troopers proved themselves well able to handle the new responsibility. In addition to the usual cross country horseback riding, many motorized rides were taken and enjoyed by all. The Troop of 1949-50 was undoubtedly one of the finest in the history of the Academy.

★ Keeping the tradition of many years, "E" Battery still maintains its high esprit de corps. We of this year's Battery have set an even higher goal for the future Batteries of Valley Forge to attain.

The Battery of the year 1949-1950 has been in the forefront in contributions to the military, academic, and athletic achievements of the corps.

The success of the Battery may be attributed to the able leadership of its tactical officer, Lt. Col. John W. Black, and its cadet officers, as well as the excellent spirit of teamwork shown by every member of the Battery.

★ The band has always striven to distinguish itself, and by its marching, bearing, and discipline to live up to the high standards and traditions with which the name of Valley Forge is always associated.

This year their efforts have been unceasing. They possess a spirit which has never been surpassed, and they have tried unceasingly to maintain the reputation of previous bands.

Each member is aware that he is an important part of a team, and it is this team spirit that is responsible for the outstanding results obtained in both music and sport, and indeed in all the numerous activities in which they participate.

Their Bandmaster and Tactical officer is Captain D. Keith Feltham, who, ably assisted by Cadet Captain Robert Carson and Cadet Lt. John Jenkins, has worked untiringly not only to make this year's band outstanding within the Academy, but to enhance its reputation throughout the State.

The Band Alumni have set the standard which we are striving to maintain. To the future graduates we say—Good luck and success in your efforts to follow in our footsteps.

The Department of Physical Training and Athletics

★ A proper system of athletics and physical training should offer opportunities for all, including in its plan provision to take care of the smallest, youngest, least-experienced cadet, as well as the oldest, most experienced athlete.

These conditions are more than met by a division of the physical activities at the Academy into interscholastic competition, intramurals, and physical training.

The Academy fields interscholastic teams in football, basketball, wrestling, fencing, swimming, track, baseball, tennis, golf, and rifle; and has a record of better than sixty per cent wins in all sports. These teams take care of the better athletes and afford them opportunity for high caliber competition. A unique factor in the system of rewards for athletic accomplishment is the fact that all the award letters are identical in size for all sports, thus placing them all on an equal basis.

The intramural program operates in three seasons: fall, winter, spring, in all of the sports mentioned plus soccer and volleyball. The competition is divided into two leagues, one for cadets over fifteen years of age and the other for cadets under fifteen years. This insures that all cadets will have an opportunity to compete against boys of comparable age and experience. Regulations are so set that cadets on Corps Squads cannot compete in intramurals in the same season that they are on a varsity team, thus permitting the younger, less-experienced cadets the opportunity to develop to the point where they are prospects for the varsity squads.

The program goes further than just providing an opportunity for participation and coaching in sports, for there would still remain a percentage of cadets who would not develop the abilities necessary for active participation. The needs of these young men are met by the physical training program. This program affects every cadet in the Academy, since all must participate regardless of whether he be a three-letter man or no athlete at all.

Physical Training is a regular part of the curriculum and regular periods are assigned through the course of the day. Here a cadet is tested and receives a measured, well-conceived dosage of formal exercise to bring about the maximum in physical development, excellence of posture, cardio-vascular respiratory condition. Further he is taught physical skills involving courage and coordination.

Here we see a composite picture of the athletic life of the Academy. A cadet can enter the Academy an athletic and physical nonentity and progress through the various phases of the program to the day when he proudly comes forward to receive his letter for athletic proficiency or possibly the coveted "Best-All-Around-Athlete-Award."

In the education of a well-rounded cadet, athletics certainly play a conspicuous role, for on the fields of friendly strife great lessons of character, sportsmanship, and fortitude are learned. No where else will he have greater opportunity to give expression to "The Will to Win".

Football, 1949

★ In his first year as head coach, Captain Novick should be vastly proud of his team and the job he has done. When he took over the reins as head coach, he faced the toughest schedule in our football history. He made a great team out of a good one by getting the boys into perfect condition and instilling in them a willingness to play. Then it was up to the team, and they came through the way a real team does. They won five games with skill, spirit, and a corps backing them to the hilt. In the two games they lost, they played to the last second. The game they tied, they pulled out of the fire in the last quarter to change a sure defeat into a tie. Our hats are off to a fighting ball team and its coach.

FRANKLIN-MARSHALL FROSH

★ The 1949 Valley Forge football team showed it was a team to be feared as it rolled over a strong F. and M. team 25-6. "Ed" Sarna, a newcomer to the Trojan squad this year, stole the show as he raced forty-five, four, and eighty-two yards, respectively, into paydirt. The Buff and Blue, spearheaded by Sarna, Jim Ebner, and Kenny Davis, scored all of its touchdowns in the first half. Veterans John Gerdes, Art Brown, and Greg Drummond all played inspiring football on the line. The Trojans displayed a powerful running attack, a smooth passing offense, and a bruising, tight defense.

Goodwin

PENNINGTON

★ The Buff and Blue copped their second victory in a row by downing a tough Pennington School eleven 24-12 at Pennington. The Trojans drew first blood by scoring on a Jim Ebner to Kenny Davis thirty-five yard pass. Pennington came back to tie the score in the second period on a twisting thirty-five yard run by Ujobai; but the Trojans were not to be denied as Sarna bucked over from the four after a series of power plays. The Cadets made it 18-6 when Ebner scored on a line buck after Sarna's thirty-five yard run set up the play. Ujobai twisted and turned his way eighty-five yards for Pennington's last t.d. Sarna's twenty-yard pass to Davis for a t.d. made the final score 24-12.

Hamilton

ADMIRAL FARRAGUT

★ In a thrilling air-tight football game, Valley Forge defeated Admiral Farragut Naval Academy. The day was cold and windy, but the game was one of the hottest and most closely contested games ever played by either school. V. F. took a 7-0 lead when Ed Sarna threw a jump pass to Bill Stout who immediately lateralled to Jim Ebner; Jim went to the two yard line and then bucked over on the next play. Bob Eckstine kicked the point. A. F. came back in the third period to score on a series of line plays. Knott booted the point to tie the score. In the fourth period with the ball on A. F.'s twenty-three yard line, Bill Churm pulled out of guard position, took a hand off from Ebner, and with perfect blocking went all the way. Eckstine kicked the point and that was the ball game.

Antonell

STAUNTON

★ Before an overflow crowd of Alumni, the Buff and Blue downed a very strong Staunton Military Academy squad 18-7. The southerners drew first blood, scoring early in the first period on a forty-yard pass from Stark to Rigney. V. F. came back early in the second quarter on a series of power plays through the line with Ed Surmiak finally carrying it over from the two. Late in the same period, Ebner and Churm threw completed passes one after the other—Churm's connecting with Stout who stepped into paydirt putting us ahead 12-7. Our last t.d. came mid-way in the third quarter when Ken Davis bucked over from the eight. Ed Sarna, Bill Churm, and Greg Drummond all played great football.

MANLIUS

★ In a clash between two unbeaten powerhouses, the Manlius School handed the Trojans their first loss in five games, 18-6. Ed Sarna bucked off right tackle from the five-yard line to put the Trojans ahead 6-o in the first quarter. The play was set up by a Sarna to Davis pitch out who streaked forty-five yards to the five. The second half was a nightmare for V. F., as Manlius scored three times on a thirty-two yard pass play and runs of fifteen and thirty-eight yards. Sarna, Gerdes, and Stout played fine ball, but it wasn't enough.

Drummond

WYOMING SEMINARY

★ In a close, well played ball game, V. F. and Wyoming Seminary battled to a 13-13 tie. The first half was really a hotly contested half, ending in a o-o score; but the second half was the most exciting half played all year. Jim Ebner reversed to Sarna who streaked twenty yards for the first score of the game at the start of the third period. The attempted conversion was blocked. Wyoming came right back on a series of passes to knot the score at six. After a punt exchange, Jone flipped forty-five yard pass to Katccik for a score and then Jone converted to make the score 6-13. With the ball on the Seminary twenty, Ed Sarna shook off three tacklers and crossed the double stripes on his stomach to put us a point behind; then he bucked over for the point to tie the game.

TEMPLE FROSH

★ A powerful Temple University freshman team, scoring almost at will, defeated a game but completely outclassed Trojan team 53-0. The Owls, sporting a powerful ground and air attack, scored twice in the first quarter, three times in the second quarter, once in the third quarter, and twice in the last quarter. "Duke" Wuzzado, a flashy little back, paced the Owls attack scoring three times. The little scatback made runs of fifteen, fifty, and forty yards. The loss was the Trojans' second of the year as against four wins and one tie.

PERKIOMEN

★ With many veterans playing their last football game for Valley Forge, the Buff and Blue ended a very successful season by swamping Perkiomen Prep 32-6. Co-captain Jim Ebner crossed the double line three times, on a five-yard buck, a twenty-five yard dash, and a fifty-yard run which was a beauty. Kenny Davis scored on a fifty-yard punt run back, and Bill Stout fell on blocked punt to complete our scoring. "Big" John Gerdes ran seventy yards with an intercepted pass for the longest run of the day. "Art" Brown, "Bill" Churm, and Frank Buchholz were towers of strength on the defense. The whole team should have a feeling of a job well done for each and every moment of a glorious season.

Basketball, 1949-50

★ Although the basketball team turned in what at first glance seems to be a poor showing, here is a perfect example of where figures lie. The team won only five games out of sixteen, but all year they were plagued by one very distinct disadvantage—that of the lack of a tall man. Coach Captain Hickman had a very fine team of sharp-shooting, good ball handling boys, but without that one tall man, who is so necessary, the squad lost many games it ordinarily might have been able to win. The team came along very fast towards the end of the year as is shown by their winning four out of their last seven games. Davis, Dmytrish, Aiken, Taylor, Sarna, and Michael sparked the team throughout the season.

★ The baseball team, although it faces a long hard schedule of fourteen games, has all the indications of turning in a very fine record at the season's end in May. The team has a wealth of talent in veterans Soderberg, who is team captain, Barretta, Reid, Nichols, Hinton, and Stewart, and newcomers Sarna, Stout, Michael, and Churm. Captain Novick, who is in his first year as coach, is looking forward to a very successful season.

★ This spring, the track team is undertaking one of its hardest schedules in recent years. Ten meets have been scheduled, three of which are against outstanding college freshmen teams. Major Gardiner, the very capable coach, has the utmost confidence his team will turn in a very creditable performance. Four lettermen return to complete this year in addition to many newcomers. Bob Carter, captain, will compete in the two sprints and the high and broad jump. John Kroeger, an excellent runner, will run the mile and the half mile. Carl Eckhardt will run the 440 along with Ramirez and Taylor. Jim Ebner will lead the squad in the field events and will be closely followed by Drummond, Gerdes, Oschwald, and Battaglia.

★ The fencing team ended its season with a very remarkable record of four wins against only two losses. What makes this record so remarkable is that the team fenced only college freshmen teams. The squad was up against the toughest opponents that could be found, and every time they came through, with heads up and colors flying. There was no individual star, but each man did his job the best he could and the team came through with an excellent showing. Cerratto, Schneider, Rodriguez, Ferriss, Downton, Lushinsky, and Martinez—all contributed to the success of the squad. Congratulations go to Coach Major Flores and the team for a very successful season.

★ The Trojan wrestling squad enjoyed another of its fine seasons as they won five matches while dropping only two. The team had many veterans with which to face its hard schedule. Included among the returning "grapplers" were co-captains John Gerdes and Phil Battaglia, Art Brown, Paul Goodwin, Jim Martin, and "Skip" Spangler. The team ended its fine season by placing fifth in the annual Interscholastics held at Lehigh, which saw nineteen teams competing.

★ We believe the 1950 tennis team will be a well-balanced and winning squad. All positions are wide open, a condition which will produce spirited competition among the regulars and the newcomers. In addition, the policy started last year of carrying extra men to give them experience will pay off this year.

Both old mainstays and newcomers will be out to equal or beat our excellent record of last season, when we won nine out of eleven prep school matches. Our squad consists of Aiken, Petrenko, Weissel, Bucholz, Frank, Driscoll, Rios, Weisberger, Heist, MacPherson and Van Erp. Added to this array will be newcomers, Quinn, Pryor, Sparks, Gable, Gerdes and Battaglia. We expect a good team and we will have a good team.

The JUNIOR COLLEGE

Lt. Colonel Weidener-Advisor

★ The Junior College, happy in the possession of its own classrooms, club, and barracks, has had an active and profitable year. The regular routine of classwork has been amplified and enriched by the inclusion of a series of instructive field trips to various major and industrial concerns. Well-informed guest speakers have addressed the cadets on a variety of subjects. On the social side, a series of dances, smokers, and dinners have been enjoyed. The Junior College has participated largely in all activities of the Corps. The officers are: R. W. Anstine, President; B. G. Hess, Vice-president; W. H. Hunter, Secretary; J. R. Eagan, Treasurer; J. M. Porter, Club Representative.

The FIRST CLASS

Lt. Colonel Brewerton-Advisor

★ This is the last year and it has been the best year. It was a year of awakening, a year of understanding, and a year of progress. We remembered the milestones: the crisp fall football afternoons, the lovely sound of the choir at the Christmas Pageant, the Hasty Heart, the Dunaway Debate, College Board Examinations, Government Inspection, the Spring Festival and, so soon, our graduation. We leave with a feeling of pride in ourselves and our Alma Mater. It is the same proudness we experienced in the strong grasp of Recognition, and when we first put on our class ring. We now look to the future.

The SECOND CLASS

Captain Hickman-Advisor

★ The Class of '51 has been an exceptionally active group, not merely as spectators, but rather as energetic participants. Now as the last step toward graduation looms ahead, their resolution to carry onward in the best traditions of the school becomes increasingly evident. Many of them have spent here all their high school years. Many have here grown to manhood in what, on looking back, seems a very short time. With abundant eagerness and enthusiasm to supplement their moral, spiritual, and physical uprightness, they are well able to assume the cloak of responsibility which becomes their due next year.

The THIRD CLASS

Major Rosso-Advisor

★ The Third Class has now found itself and knows its place in the scheme of things at the Forge. Its two years here have been ones of development for its members—development of pride, initiative, sense of duty, and character. When the time arrives for this class to take over the leadership of the corps, it will be ready; for it contains men of the highest caliber who will be fine, capable, and outstanding in conducting the affairs of the class.

The Third Class has always contributed its share to athletics, to the military and tactical activities, as well as to academic affairs.

★ The Class of '53, the trail-blazers of the future, are busy absorbing the atmosphere of the Forge, learning to work, being disciplined into the routine of a military life, knowing that to them the future offers the continuation of the enviable record of former classes, made possible by guidance and the proper emphasis placed upon integrity, unity, spirit, morale, and academics.

The Fourth Class has been moulded into a unity . . . into a whole. To them we say in all sincerity, may the treasured positions of trust and leadership in the Corps be yours in the future.

The FIFTH and SIXTH CLASSES

Major Mitterling-Advisor

★ We, the Fifth and Sixth Classes, have adopted for ourselves the motto, "Everlastingly at It." David gave a striking and practical demonstration of this motto when he slew the giant, Goliath, as a result of his constant practice with his sling shot. We shall carry this motto with us continually. That's why we expect to make a name for ourselves on the athletic field as well as in the classroom.

We feel, therefore, that the Academy can place all confidence in us, believing that we shall do everything for the honor and glory of our school.

Order of Anthony Wayne

★ The most coveted honor that can come to a cadet or faculty officer of the Academy is that of membership in the Order of Anthony Wayne. The cadets and faculty members who win this award are examples of the finest in citizenship at the Academy. They are outstanding in their contributions to the welfare, efficiency, and development of the Academy.

This award is also made to certain distinguished citizens in recognition of worthy services to the Academy, the State, and the Nation.

The Gold Cross of the Order of Anthony Wayne is presented annually to members of the Faculty and Corps of Cadets for meritorious service above and beyond the call of duty.

Honor Council

★ Honor as it is understood by cadets is a fundamental attribute of character. It is a virtue which implies loyalty and courage, truthfulness and self-respect, justice and generosity. Its underlying principle is truth.

The Council is acknowledged officially as performing one of the most important functions in the indoctrination and training of cadets. The membership is elective and the responsibility is a great one.

Colonel Feather-Advisor

★ The Cadet Advisory Council is made up of Cadets elected from every platoon in the Corps. This group was formed for the purpose of studying recommendations from cadets for the betterment of cadet life at Valley Forge. It acts by parliamentary procedure, and has brought to the attention of the administration many excellent resolutions which have been approved and put into effect. This organization has served the Corps well under the direction of Cadet J. S. Jamison, President; Cadet R. E. Carter, Vice-President; Cadet G. E. Hanrahan, Secretary; and Cadet P. S. Battaglia, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Patrick Henry Forum

★ The purpose of the Patrick Henry Forum is to foster interest in public speaking. This year its members have had the pleasure of hearing talks by guest speakers and have had experience in public speaking by participating in various forensic activities on the post.

Many plans for the future of the Forum have been promoted for next year, such as inter-scholastic debates and various cultural activities which will develop a desire in the Corps to become better public speakers.

Lieutenant Ellwood-Advisor

★ The Alexander Hamilton Forum is dedicated to the furthering of interests in national and international affairs, so that it may be possible for the cadet to understand better the fundamentals and ever important precepts of global social conditions. The Forum also sponsors the celebration of all national holidays, such as Washington's birthday, Lincoln's birthday, and all other American holidays. The officers of the society are selected by election for their meritorious service in the past years. The officers for the 1950 session are: Cadet Louis Felicetti, Jr., Chairman; Cadet Arthur Brown, Committee Chairman; Cadet John Seitz, Secretary; and Cadet James Ebner, Sergeant-at-Arms. The Forum's advisor is Lieutenant Joseph L. Ellwood.

Phi Theta Kappa

★ To be eligible for Phi Theta Kappa, national junior college honor fraternity, one must be scholastically in the top 10 per cent of the college student body. The key which the members proudly wear, when in civvies, appropriately bears as a crest a representation of the head of Minerva, goddess of wisdom. Our own Delta Epsilon chapter consists of Cadets H. Dreizler, M. Y. Agress, R. H. Lloyd, R. A. Michael, S. V. Maurer, R. E. Hamstead, W. Hunter, G. Ferris and M. L. Belk.

Benjamin Franklin Association

Major Mitterling-Advisor

★ Throughout the years of its existence, The Benjamin Franklin Association has reached the summit of success in accordance with the ideals of the great American scientist whose name the society bears. The main purpose of the society is to be cognizant of scientific progress in all fields of scientific endeavor, and to encourage in its members scientific investigation and pursuits, thus training the young men who will devote their lives to creating a better world in which to live.

This goal, however, could not have been reached without the supervision and encouragement of our good friend and advisor, Major Mitterling. United with him in our purpose, the society has had the most successful year in its history.

Washington Irving Literary Society

★ Each year at Valley Forge Military Academy, we find a group of students whose creative talents call for expression. The Washington Irving Literary Society was founded three years ago for that purpose. Members not only contribute their own efforts of prose and poetry for criticism but also learn appreciation for the best achievements of others.

The Society's activities throughout the year include the publishing and editing of a literary magazine, The Anvil, which welcomes contributions of the entire Corps. The gratifying response to this year's request for creative material insured the success of the 1950 Anvil. A new feature has been introduced by the group whereby a literary supplement has been added to a few editions of The Legionnaire—the Academy's newspaper. This project was of an experimental nature, but it is hoped that it will become a permanent feature.

Guest speakers addressed the Society, and the club members attended the theatre locally and in Philadelphia.

Although the Washington Irving Literary Society is a comparatively new organization, it is fast becoming one of the major activities at Valley Forge.

Lieutenant John J. Maguire is the Faculty Advisor and Sponsor of the Group.

Stephen Foster Musicol Appreciation Society

Major Mauk-Advisor

★ The Stephen Foster Society, founded in 1947, may be said to have a two-fold purpose: first, to provide a source for music lovers among the cadets whereby they may fulfill their desire to listen to good music; and second, by study of the score and its composer, to enable them to arrive at a greater appreciation of the talents of the artist and composer themselves.

In addition to its fortnightly meetings, the Society travels to nearby Philadelphia where the ultimate in musical entertainment may be found including opera, musical comedy, individual artists, and the finest symphony orchestra in the world.

Extending its influence to the corps of cadets, the Society this year through its own efforts sponsored several concerts and recitals by visiting artists and turned the proceeds into a worthwhile project, that of equipping a permanent record library of the best in musical compositions for the use and enjoyment of future Societies.

Quill and Scroll

★ The Quill and Scroll Society, an international honor society for high school journalists, offers recognition to students who perform creditably in news writing activities, such as those connected with the publication of the school paper, the school yearbook, and the school magazine. In order to win membership the student must be not only active in journalistic pursuits, but also in the upper third of his class scholastically.

Our local chapter has been active for the past several years. Members are elected from an eligible list during the latter part of February. In addition to the transaction of the necessary business of the society, the group holds a gridiron banquet once a year.

The Legionnaire

★ Although the job has been a difficult one, members of the Legionnaire staff will tell you that a good deal of fun was involved in writing stories, correcting them re-writing, and meeting deadlines in various ways. No member will deny that it was also a fine experience.

It was the job of the Legionnaire staff to bring to the Corps a paper containing news of interest to all Cadets. From football games to concerts and from the "make list" to "Jenny" this paper has given to us a great deal of enjoyment and entertainment.

Therefore, we of the Class of 1950, along with the rest of the Corps, wish to express our thanks to all members of the Legionnaire for contributing to a very pleasant stay here at Valley Forge.

This year, under the direction of Major H. T. Cox, the head of the English Department, individual instructors have acted as advisors for various editions of the paper; and the members of the staff have found it interesting and valuable training in working with Major Ankenbrand, Captain Hickman, Captain Novick, Lt. Corsa, Lt. Dean, Lt. Day, and Lt. Maguire.

The 1950 Crossed Sabres

★ The annual publication of Crossed Sabres, the yearbook of the Corps of Cadets, is a publishing venture eagerly awaited by the underclassmen as well as by the graduating class. Its compilation this year has had a twofold purpose; first, to bring into active play what we have learned in our English classes, the paramount value of those three glittering principles of good writing—unity, emphasis, and coherence; and second, the reliving of happy years, crowded with memories of classroom days, parades, reviews, inspections, dances and friendships made and valued. We, the editors of the staff, stand with sabres crossed and let the pages of this book slowly pass in review.

The Camera Club

Major Ocinski-Advisor

★ The Camera Club is an organization devoted to the study and practice of fine photography. It is the sincere desire of each of its members to become a true artist of the lenses. Besides taking still and action shots this organization makes a detailed study of good composition and also the mechanical side of this fascinating subject. All activities at the Forge are captured on celluloid for their album of memories. Major A. Ocinski, the Director of Visual Aids, is the busy advisor of this new campus activity.

The Anvil

★ The Anvil is published and edited by a staff, selected from the members of the Washington Irving Literary Society, which encourages and welcomes contributions from the entire Corps. These contributions consist of both prose and poetry, which are original creative productions of the literary students of the Forge.

Many of these stories, essays, poems, and literary criticisms are illustrated by cadets, gifted in the arts of drawing, cartooning, water coloring, or painting. Thus it is easy to see that The Anvil is a worthy project, both in a literary sense and in an artistic one.

The Anvil is sponsored by the Washington Irving Literary Society. It is ably and capably directed by Lt. John J. Maguire of the English Department.

The Kaydets

Captain Feltham-Advisor

★ This year's Kaydet Orchestra is truly a professional organization formed among the more musically inclined of the Corps. They have contributed much to the success of the numerous functions which go towards making the social life at the Forge. Whenever the orchestra plays, nothing but the best in dance music is heard. Playing for dances, dinners, parties, and in the Mess Hall, it has won favorable comment from all.

The members spend much of their leisure time in rehearsal, even though many of them are engaged in other extra-curricular activities.

Only through the unceasing efforts of each individual member has it been possible to obtain the outstanding results that are expected and which are our constant aim.

The Glee Club

V F M A

★ That "music hath charms" is a truth that impresses itself upon all those connected with the Academy as they listen to the Glee Club, which is directed skillfully and brilliantly by Mr. Herman A. Weise, Jr.

Mr. Weise has given unselfishly of his time and talents to the development of a club, whose vocal accomplishments are superior to those of much older and more experienced choral groups.

The Corps, Faculty, and Administrators owe much to this club which has given us all very deep pleasure in their serious accomplishments and moments of fun by their lighter presentations. To this club which is such an integral part of our Academy life we say—Thanks.

Mr. Weise-Director

The Choir

1950

Mrs. Weise-Organist

★ The deep tones of the Academy Choir are a fitting accompaniment to the beautiful solemnity of the Chapel services. These youthful voices, raised in spiritual exultation and devotion, will no doubt be among the most treasured memories of the graduates.

The choir by its inspiring vocal contributions has deepened the meaning of the Candlelight Service at Christmastide, the services during Lent, and at Easter, and the special services for Mother's Day and the like.

May we say, "Orchids to Mr. and Mrs. Weise for their outstanding service to the Academy in the development of the Choir."

The Chapel Vestry

★ The Chapel Vestry, composed of both cadets and faculty officers, administer the temporal affairs of the Cadet Chapel and assist the Academy Chaplain in the multitudinous duties connected with the religious life at Valley Forge. In addition, the Vestry is responsible for the Saturday evening motion picture shows in the Post Theatre, and there is not an indoor function held at the Academy that the group does not play an important part in. The Vestry, because of its functional nature contributes greatly to the cadet life at the Academy and each vestryman receives many individual benefits from "doing" and rendering such excellent service. The Vestry, during 1949-50, has reached new heights under the leadership of Cadet W. J. Weissel, Chairman; Cadet G. L. Harvey, Co-chairman; Cadet K. Dunlap, Secretary; and Cadet A. Wurm, Treasurer.

The Hop Committee

Major Mauk-Advisor

The committee, made up of a Chairman, Treasurer, and one representative from each company, selects the orchestra, sees to the sending of invitations to the Cadets' dates, and handles financial affairs. It is responsible for the popularity of all social functions in its charge. The faculty advisor for this club is Major Mauk.

The Varsity Club

★ The Varsity Club is comprised of those cadets who are letter winners on Varsity Teams. The club is organized to promote and encourage ideals of sportsmanship and fair play. These traditions not only apply to the playing field but also govern the conduct of the cadet in all phases of his school life. The club also has as its objective the fostering of school spirit in the Corps. Since one of the contributing factors to Esprit de Corps is the feeling of unity achieved in the cheering on and backing the various school teams, the Varsity Club, made up of the best athletes, is a ready medium for this mission. The club motto is "For School and the Game."

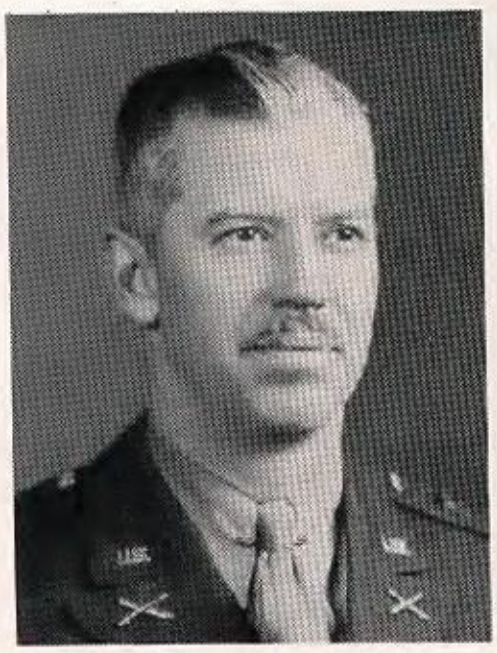
The Battery Club



Lt. Colonel Black-Advisor

★ The Battery Club is an organization for those cadets in "E" Battery who wish to acquire a greater knowledge of mechanics and artillery and at the same time enjoy the extra privileges afforded its members.

We, the 1949-1950 Battery Club were provided with fine trips to the larger Eastern automobile, truck, and bus factories. We had many parties, a colorful dance, and pleasure rides, including picnics at French Creek State Park. This year's club officers were Probola, H. E., President; Pritts, V. W., Vice-President; Linette, A. J., Secretary; Pack, R. D., Treasurer and Sykes, W. T., Sgt.-at-arms.

Three Arts Club

★ The Three Arts Club has added something new to its yearly program by sponsoring two art exhibits this year. It has shown the historic landmark sketches of Henry T. MacNeil and the water-colors of Alex Lee, the President of the Society of New Jersey Artists. Besides having two interesting speakers, the Club has made many trips to see the best dramatic performances in and near Philadelphia. The Club continues to foster in its members a discerning ear and eye, and a lasting appreciation for the finer things of life. This active organization was founded by Major Frank Ankenbrand, Jr. in the fall of 1945, and it is the hope of its members that next year it may join the ranks of the Academy's honor societies as the Charles Wilson Peale Art Society.

The Press Club

Lt. Colonel Bates-Advisor

★ The Press Club has been organized to further the various phases of public relations activities at the academy. Its advisor is Lt. Colonel Heston Bates. The Club hopes to have as members cadets who are interested in such things as radio, television, feature writing, sports writing, and human interest writing.

Lt. Colonel Bates emphasizes that by becoming a member of this club a cadet will broaden his scope in clear, concise thinking, accurate reporting, and intelligent writing. He also emphasizes that the program of this club does not coincide with that of the Quill and Scroll Society.

The club members see aviation in action on their trips to nearby airfields, the most popular of which has been Willow Grove Air Station. On Spring Festival Weekend the accomplishments of the club are displayed in its exhibit and in the model airplane meet.

In their meetings this year the members are busy planning programs and drawing up a constitution and by-laws for the selection of new members and the perpetuation of the society.

Present membership includes W. Snow, P. Stonborough, W. Weissel, C. Pedersen, J. Gordon, M. Schwartzstein, T. Herb, W. Sykes, E. Goss, and W. Dodel.

Arts and Craft Club

★ Cadets of all ages find pleasant diversion each afternoon after school in the Academy's well-equipped Arts and Crafts Club headquarters in the basement of Lhotak Hall.

Here, under proper supervision, our young men find interest in a variety of hobby activities, combining pleasure in making or building articles of their own choosing with the development of manual skills and the safe operation of wood working machinery and tools.

Some are busily engaged in constructing model planes, some with and without motors; others repair their radios, cabinets, chests, while a few find enjoyment in building and cutting out attractive articles of wood, plastics, metal, and leather.

An enjoyable and instructive leisure time program, with a degree of fellowship among the members, is the objective of the Club.

Lieutenant Stolz-Advisor

Codet Clubs

★ The Cadets of the Corps have thoroughly enjoyed the club rooms in the Valley Forge House, where it is possible to read, play games, talk, or watch television. Dedication

They raised their hearts in valor's swift response
Unto their God, and saw His flaming sword
Advanced in Kingly might. Unfurled His banners blazed, Compelling trumpets blew the charge He summoned on.
Black burned the pits of hell. No depth could hold
The vengeful fiends who sought their fill of death
With snares of steel. The valiant fell, yet valiant, conquered all,
For His strong arm redeemed each captive twice
Who vanquished self and passed from death to life.
